

Aaron Sanchez
MTEC 2280
5/20/25

Project Concept:

A button reaction game with 5 levels that tests your speed and accuracy using a physical button.

How to Use:

Press the button to start. Follow the red circle and instructions on screen, pressing the button when required. Try to get the highest score!

How It Works:

The game runs in Processing and communicates with a microcontroller via serial. The button presses are read and timed to score your reactions.